

Speech of Prof. Dr. Fawzia Farouk Kamel
Head of Nursing Administration Department

Department of Nursing Administration is one of the six specialized academic departments in the Faculty of Nursing. It is considered one of the distinguished academic departments in the Faculty of Nursing in the field of research, education and community service. So, the students of the department are trained on various skills of critical thinking and, innovative methods of solving the problem through interactive teaching in theoretical lectures and practical training. The department offers courses for nursing administration in the bachelor's degree as well as in the diploma, masters and doctoral degree. In turn, the department members seek to achieve the vision, mission and strategic objectives of both the Faculty of Nursing and the University.

With my greetings, good luck
