

كلية التمريض
FACULTY OF NURSING

Vision of the Department of Medical Surgical Nursing :

Preparing high quality nursing graduates who are able to care for healthy adult groups and patients who meet the requirements of working in health fields and community health institutions according to local and international standards. As well as preparing nurses who are able to use scientific research and appropriate technology in the fields of medical and surgical nursing.

The mission of Medical Surgical Nursing Department :

This department introduces the basic concepts in medical-surgical nursing and the challenges faced by adult patients for sustainable development with basic scientific knowledge and skills that will help in applying comprehensive nursing care to adult patients with actual or potential health problems according to competency-based learning in various areas of medical-surgical nursing.

General objectives of the Department of Medical and Surgical Nursing

1. Care for adult patients with a variety of surgical and medical conditions in a variety of healthcare settings.
2. Use evidence-based practice and research in learning modules to provide the student with current trends in the implementation of advanced nursing skills and facilitate the development of better clinical reasoning skills.
3. Provide content that includes common and anticipated surgical problems for diverse adult patients in relation to the cultural and psychosocial influences that contribute to their care.

Dr. Manala H. Al-Sayid
Dr. Al-Sayid

4.To assist graduates in developing expertise and understanding in the field of medical and surgical nursing care in line with technological, social, economic and labour market developments with a broad awareness of principles and concepts.

5.Provide content that includes common and anticipated surgical problems for diverse adult patients in relation to the cultural and psychosocial influences that contribute to their care.

6.To assist graduates in developing expertise and understanding in the field of medical and surgical nursing care in line with technological, social, economic and labour market developments with broad awareness of new principles, concepts, trends and regional issues in the field of medical and surgical nursing.

7.To provide students with the opportunity to understand, appreciate and acquire critical analysis, interpretation, planning and problem solving skills at various levels to provide high quality nursing care.

8.Training, education and continuous development in the field of applied scientific research in the field of medical-surgical nursing

Head of department

Prof.Dr /Amal Saeed Taha

Dr. Mariwa Mostafa

